Quilt Shop News:

Renovations are ALMOST done and we will be opening the doors very soon! We had a few minor delays, but are back on track. Providing everything goes as planned, the doors should be open for our soft opening the week of November 9/09 with a publicized opening of November 14, 2009. A grand opening celebration will also be advertised for a later date.

The website is being reconstructed to be easier to update, and that project will be completed November 2 – and as news is released, the website will be updated. I will continue to send e-newsletters until the Grand Opening, then they will be sent out on a monthly basis. I encourage you to visit the website often, at www.suzyqsquiltshop.com

A “soft” opening is expected to occur early November where we can work out any issues that may arise before our GRAND OPENING in the later part of November -- anticipated date for this event is tentatively scheduled for November 14, 2009. Watch for more information in the next newsletter and keep checking our website at www.suzyqsquiltshop.com – updates will be done by the end of October.
